Teacher required for September 2024

Are you a teacher with a passion for helping students with special educational needs? The St. Christopher School could be your next exciting opportunity!

As a special school that caters to pupils from ages 3 to 19, The St. Christopher School works with students who have Autism Spectrum Disorder, ADHD, communication & interaction difficulties, and a range of learning difficulties.

Since joining the SEN Trust Southend in 2017, The St. Christopher School has been able to collaborate with St. Nicholas School, Lancaster School, and Kingsdown School, opening up even more opportunities for teachers and students.

If you are a skilled teacher with experience or a keen interest in working with learners who have special educational needs and complex learning difficulties, then this role would be ideal. The school is especially interested in teachers who have a passion for supporting communication and sensory needs.

As a teacher at The St. Christopher School, you will need to be enthusiastic, reflective, and dedicated. You must show a genuine interest in working with pupils who have special educational needs, and you will need to be able to motivate the team of support staff that works with you.

The school fosters a whole-school teamwork ethos, and you will need to be committed to this approach. In return, the school provides access to high-quality training for its staff, offering plenty of opportunities to develop your skills and stay up-to-date with the latest practices and techniques in special education. If you are looking for a fulfilling teaching role where you can truly make a difference in the lives of students, then The St. Christopher School is the perfect place for you.

Salary: Main scale/UPS +1 SEN point (second SEN point dependent on advanced qualifications).

For further information about the post contact Dan Woodman, Headteacher.

For an application form and/or to arrange a visit contact Karen Stevenson/Helen Warren.

Visits are strongly recommended, to understand the school context and nature of special educational needs of the pupils in the school. Please contact the school for further information.
