The Post

It is an exciting time at Becket Keys Church of England School (Outstanding, 2014). We are working hard to build upon the exam successes of our founding cohorts, whilst also establishing our new Sixth Form into its fifth year.

As part of our growth plan, we are seeking a teacher to help us establish a brand-new Computer Science Department. If you can deliver rigorous Computer Science teaching to our students from Year 7 to Sixth Form, we want to hear from you. Our plan is to introduce a small class at GCSE and A Level and also start teaching it as part of our curriculum offer from Year 7 upwards.

We are looking for someone with the passion, drive and curriculum knowledge to teach this challenging subject. As you will be delivering A Level Computer Science, a good grasp of programming will be required. We will support the successful candidate with our expert advisers at the Russell Education Trust to set up this new subject. Our students are passionate and eager to learn, and we have the infrastructure in place. All we need now is the right teacher.

The role would suit someone with a few years of experience; however, we can also support colleagues who are at the start of their career. A highly motivated NQT would also be considered and he/she will be given additional time and support to ensure the demands of the position are met.

The appointee will be committed to our high expectations and core Christian values. However, we welcome applications from teachers irrespective of their faith or lack of it. All we ask is that all applicants appreciate and respect the beliefs of others and have strong moral principles.

Staff will be provided with a comprehensive induction programme and laptop. Relocation packages and child care vouchers are available.

Please complete both our application form and equalities monitoring form and email it with a personal statement to vacancies@becketkeys.org.

Becket Keys is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people. The successful candidate will be subject to an enhanced DBS check.
